Dear Mr. Shapiro,

I have information that no media will address. An enclosed CD has documentation for the following information:

76 years ago the President of General Motors predicted 80-mpg by 1939; 69 years ago Ford Motor Co. tested a 170-mpg Pogue carburetor; 32 years ago Shell Oil Co demonstrated a 376-mpg automobile; 28 years ago a 100-mpg Ford V-8 was demonstrated; 22 years ago Peugeot advertised a 72-mpg @ 56-mph Diesel. 3 years ago an English newspaper article announced a 104-mpg Toyota Diesel and 94-mpg VW/Audi Diesels. Commercial fuel cell vehicles have been available in Europe for years. Many U.S. Patents exist for devices that separate the elements of water for use as fuel, one patent #1,380,183 was granted 84 years ago.

Will your network inform the public of the above?

Regards,
